

HAMBURG CAPTURED; KIEL OPEN CITY

NEW FUHRER
FLEES; HITLER
BODY HUNTEDSITUATION INSIDE
GERMANY NOTHING
BUT CHAOS

BY ALEX SINGLETON
London, May 3 (AP)—Germany's new Fuehrer, Grand Admiral Doenitz, was reported to have fled to the naval base of Kiel today as British forces swept through capitulated Hamburg, 50 miles to the south, and victorious Russian troops searched for Hitler's body in the ruins of Berlin.

The German high command in its daily communique broadcast hours late last (Thurs.) night said that the naval base of Kiel and Flensburg on the Danish border had been declared open cities.

So swift was the disintegration of German resistance and so chaotic the general situation inside the Reich that it appeared tonight there might be no necessity to negotiate a formal surrender.

Norway Hopeful
A Stockholm dispatch said Doenitz and his new Foreign Minister, Count Ludwig Schwerin von Krosigk, were conferring at Kiel with Josef Terboven, Nazi commissioner for Norway, and Werner Best, German minister to Denmark, on the possibility of making a final stand in those Scandinavian countries.

The chief obstacle standing in the way of a declared peace was believed to be the German force in Norway, estimated by responsible quarters at 150,000 troops, who have been strengthened in recent months by aerial delivery of weapons and supplies.

Stockholm heard that negotiations were in progress to bring about the surrender of the Norwegian Nazis without bloodshed. Norwegian patriots in an order of the day called upon the people to offer no provocation to the Germans which might diminish prospects of an orderly end to the occupation.

Norwegian sources in London reported that Quisling's followers were trying frantically to soften the feelings of the Norwegian people toward them and claimed that the German troops will to fight was based chiefly on their terror over the possibility of falling into Russian hands.

Prague "Hospital Town"
Amid the intense speculation over Admiral Doenitz' intentions there was a growing tendency to believe that Denmark could be written off as a scene of a stubborn Nazi stand. A Danish Free Press dispatch declared that dissolution of the Wehrmacht in that little country was obvious, and the Luxembourg radio declared that many German commanders were surrendering to the mayors of Danish towns.

With Hamburg and its powerful radio station in British hands, it appeared logical that Doenitz, the navy man, would establish his temporary capital at Kiel. Possibly with prior knowledge, RAF bombers pounded the city last night.

Shortly before making their final broadcast from Hamburg, the Nazis announced that Prague, the capital of Czechoslovakia, had been declared a "Hospital Town" or open city, and that "negotiations for the reorganization of the political life of the protectorate have begun."

NOT MUCH REICH LEFT — Marshal Stalin, in a triumphant Order of the Day, announces the fall of Berlin after 12 days of siege, culminating what is described as one of the bloodiest struggles in history. In Washington, President Truman reveals the "unconditional surrender" of all German forces in Italy. The surrender affects between 60,000 and 900,000 men commanded by Col. General Heinrich von Vietinghoff and Gen. Karl Wolff, chief of Police and Security for northern Italy and western Austria. The entire position of the Germans in northern Germany appears to have been undermined by lightning advances of both British and Russian troops. (NEA Photo.)

Wehrmacht Comes To Shameful End
On Banks Of Elbe

BY WES GALLAGHER

On the Elbe River in Germany, May 3 (AP)—Germany's once proud Wehrmacht is dying a shameful death on the banks of the Elbe. SS panzer troops—once Germany's elite—paddle across the river in makeshift rafts. Sometimes they swim, leaving their medals and decorations behind. The swarm of soldiers clogging the east bank by the tens of thousands is more than a beaten army. It is a fear-stricken horde—afraid of the Russians with a fear that only a guilty conscience can inspire.

Ten thousand surrendered to the 29th division in 24 hours. One hundred thousand are in the process of surrendering to the 82nd Airborne Division, which is across the river. Three thousand surrendered to one regiment of the 102nd Division.

It is the same for 100 miles up and down the Elbe. And their coming has created a grave problem for American military commanders. The American Ninth Army does not want them but they come anyway and military men are afraid the Russians may feel the western Allies are giving shelter to the enemy. Every effort has been made to discourage surrenders.

The Germans came up to the river under white flags, row across, and say they are going to surrender, and the doughboys can't do anything but accept them. Enemy generals come up to regimental command posts to await their turn and nothing is accepted but unconditional surrender.

Generals Lined Up
Anyone standing on the Elbe couldn't help but feel the war is over, V-E declaration or no. That enemy generals are standing.

Anthracite Mines
Ordered Seized By President Truman

Washington, May 3 (AP)—President Truman tonight authorized Secretary Ickes to seize the nation's anthracite mines "as a result of existing or threatened strikes and other labor disturbances."

The idle mines, numbering 231, are located in Pennsylvania. Wage negotiations between the operators and the United Mine Workers remained deadlocked in New York as the president acted.

TOKYO TASTES
LARGE DOSESRANGOON SEIZED; AMERICANS IN DAVAO CITY

BY CLYDE BARTEL

Associated Press War Editor
The Japanese army tasted bitter defeat today in large doses administered by Allied forces from the Philippines to Borneo and Burma. British and Indian troops entered Rangoon, Burma's capital and chief port, and capped their greatest victory in a three-year campaign in that hot, wet country with a rapid mop-up of Japanese remaining in the city.

The American 24th Division penetrated Davao city on the southeast coast of Mindanao in the Philippines, chasing the retreating Japanese who had been expected to make a stiff defense of the port. They captured an airfield, coastal guns and ammunition dumps.

Veterans of the Australian Ninth Division driving from beachheads established Tuesday on Tarakan Island, off Borneo's northeastern coast, were within a few hundred yards of an airfield and had reached the outskirts of Lingkas, principal city of the oil production island.

Okinawa Advance Slow
Around, the 10th Army resumed its attack on the southern Okinawa line against heavy counterfire from Japanese guns of all caliber. The First Marine Division made a limited advance in the center.

The British-Indian entry into Rangoon, following air and sea-borne landings at the Bay of Bengal mouth of the Rangoon river Monday and Tuesday, was the foremost of several triumphs over the Japanese in Burma.

On Luzon island in the Philippines American troops approached the Cagan valley in the northern mountains, while Yank bombers blasted Japanese positions with 325 tons of bombs.

Allied bomber and fighter aircraft hit Formosa industrial plants and swept the China and French Indo-China coast, pounded Japanese shipping and rail facilities.

U. S. Pacific fleet headquarters disclosed that four 23,000-ton British aircraft carriers, the Indomitable, Indefatigable, Victorious and Illustrious, are operating with the British Pacific fleet in the Ryukyu islands, in conjunction with the American invasion of Okinawa.

Municipal Workers
Retirement Act Is Approved By Kelly

Lansing, May 3 (AP)—Governor Kelly today signed into law a bill creating a municipal employees retirement system to be administered by the State Employees Retirement System.

Sponsors of the bill, the Michigan Municipal League and the Institute of Local Government, met immediately after it was signed by the Governor to take steps to inform eligible municipalities of provisions of the act.

The new law will permit employment of small units of government to be covered by a pension plan similar to the plan now in operation for state employees and in some larger cities.

Under the act, cities, villages, counties and townships which do not have a pension plan may on a voluntary basis join with 10 or more other municipalities with a total of at least 250 employees to establish such a system. The executive secretary of the state system will double as executive secretary of the new plan.

The act establishes two optional retirement systems, one applicable to a small unit of government and the other a larger plan similar to the State Employees Retirement Plan, and excluding fire and police department employees covered by existing pension plans.

Doenitz Reported
In Copenhagen For
Huddle With Allies

London, Thursday, May 4 (AP)—A German radio station, believed to be Bremen, declared today that Germany's new Fuehrer, Grand Admiral Karl Doenitz, had arrived in Copenhagen yesterday after being in Copenhagen for a huddle with the Allies.

The broadcast said it was believed that other members of the German government had accompanied Doenitz.

The report that Doenitz was in Copenhagen coincided with unconfirmed reports from Stockholm that Field Marshal Montgomery was conferring, or about to confer, with German leaders.

World Peace
Charter Gets Strong Start

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

San Francisco, May 3 (AP)—America made its bid today to strengthen a world charter for peace through specific recognition of the cardinal principles of justice, international law, human rights and the Atlantic charter's four freedoms.

And, beyond these, the U. S. delegation to the United Nations Conference further recommended: Future review of a projected international constitution "in the light of experience and the developing world situation after the war is over."

Provision for "peaceful change of conditions in the world so that the world is not frozen." The American suggestions fell into nine major categories. As spokesman for the delegation, Commander Harold E. Stassen outlined them to reporters and said they had been approved unanimously.

Even as he went down the list, foreign ministers of the four nations sponsoring the conference—Stettinius of the United States, Soong of China, Molotov of Russia and Eden of Britain—were going over them.

Issues Ironed Out
The big four, in fact, were surveying the whole future of the conference in an effort to anticipate issues and insure a quick, smooth run toward its goal after Molotov and Eden leave the Golden Gate.

This is what the Americans want:

1. An international organization functioning "in keeping with the principles of justice."
2. Clarification of the Dumbarton Oaks blueprint, worked out last fall by the four sponsoring nations as the agenda for this conference, to say that the world organization shall function within international law and assist in perfecting it.
3. The development and safeguarding of human rights.
4. Provision for peaceful change of world conditions.
5. A definite system of trusteeships for weak or strategic territories.
6. A system to facilitate amending the charter to meet post-war conditions.
7. A modernized world court.
8. Incorporation into the charter of specific provisions of the Atlantic charter, including assurances of freedom from want and fear, freedom of speech and worship.
9. A declaration of cultural objectives similar to those already proposed by China.

Adoption of the American recommendations would dissolve some, but not all, of the dissatisfaction of small powers with Dumbarton Oaks as it now stands.

FARMER DRAFT
BAN GETS VETOHouse Sustains Action
Of President In 185-177 Vote

Washington, May 3 (AP)—President Truman emerged a winner from his first legislative fight today as the House sustained his veto of a resolution giving almost ironclad draft deferments to farmers.

The president, in rejecting the measure earlier in the day, declared that "no group should have special privileges." He said the legislation would violate the non-discrimination principles of the Selective Service Act.

On the showdown in the House, 185 members voted to override the veto and 177 voted to sustain it. Since it takes a two-thirds vote of both houses to override, the legislation thereby died.

Thirty Democrats joined 154 Republicans and one Progressive in the vote to override. Against them were arrayed 12 Republicans, 1 American Labor member and 164 Democrats.

The original Tydings amendment, which remains on the law books, blueprint a procedure for deferment of farm workers deemed to be essential and irreplaceable.

The Flannagan resolution went a step further by making it mandatory that such registrants be deferred "without consideration of any other circumstance or condition whatsoever." It grew out of congressional dissatisfaction with the administration of the Tydings amendment.

YOUTH FOUND SANE

Big Rapids, Mich., May 3 (AP)—James Smiley, 16-year-old youth accused of the fatal shooting of his foster-mother at their Echo Lake cottage April 21, has been found sane by a sanity commission at the Traverse City state hospital. Prosecutor Fred R. Everett said today.

HUGE POCKET
CLEARED OUT
BY RUSSIANSREDS LINK UP WITH BRITISH NORTH OF BERLIN

BY ROMNEY WHEELER

London, Friday, May 4 (AP)—Russian troops collapsed the last German resistance in north-central Germany yesterday, linking with British forces on a 65-mile front south of the Baltic in a 30-mile surge that wiped out a huge enemy pocket between Rostock and Hamburg.

At least three enemy divisions surrendered to the combined Russian and British forces in the clean-up of Mecklenburg province.

More than 10,000 demoralized Nazi soldiers surrendered to the Red army alone as Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky's Second White Russian army and Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's troops joined for the first time between the Baltic port of Wismar and Wittenberge on the Elbe river, 62 miles northwest of Berlin.

Captives Total 134,000
At the same time, forces of Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First White Russian army, co-conquerors of Berlin, joined up with the U. S. Ninth army on a 33-mile front west of the Nazi capital's smoking ruins.

The junction of American, British and Russian forces now extends across northern and central Germany on an almost solid 200-mile front from Wismar south to the Elbe northwest of Dresden.

In Berlin, another 64,000 stunned and battle-weary German troops emerged from the subways and sewers of the rubble city to hand over their weapons, almost doubling the huge bag of German prisoners herded into Red army cages since the surrender of the capital.

More than 134,000 German troops had been counted since Berlin's capitulation at 3 p. m. Wednesday, and Moscow dispatches said still more were joining the long ranks of prisoners being marched away. By Moscow's accounts, 507,000 German troops have been killed or captured in the struggle in and around the capital.

As the hush of a dead nation settled over the once-proud capital of Adolf Hitler's continental empire, the Red army set sullen German troops to work clearing up the appalling shambles.

Hitler Not There
Dispatches said that Soviet soldiers continued to dig amid the ruins for the bodies of Adolf Hitler and Paul Joseph Goebbels, but though the Soviet high command announced the capture of another chief in Goebbels' propaganda ministry, along with three generals, the Russians remained officially silent on the result of the search.

One Soviet commentator, Nikolai Tikhonov, wrote in Pravda, however: "Hitler is not in Berlin, but we'll find out what actually happened to him. If he has fled, we'll find him no matter where he has found shelter."

Rokossovsky's race to a junction with Montgomery's British Second Army and Zhukov's sweep to the Elbe southeast of Wittenberge left a 1,500-square mile German pocket holding out west and southwest of Berlin below Brandenburg.

But this German group was isolated and without hope of relief.

The new junction left only German forces in western Czechoslovakia and eastern Austria in a position to prolong the fight against the Red army.

War News Movie
Censorship Gets
Rap At Detroit

Detroit, May 3 (AP)—Censorship of a war news reel met with protest here today.

At police request a news reel theater deleted scenes of hangings in Lublin, seat of the new Polish government, and the Detroit Local of the Motion Picture Operators Union (AFL) remonstrated.

Norman Wheaton, theater manager, said the scenes showed the "Trial and hanging of five of the Nazi overlords at Lublin." He said it was a Russian film approved by the war department and he expressed belief that the war department "wanted the public to see it."

Roger Kennedy, spokesman for the Operators Union, said Americans ought to be shown the actualities of war. He sought a conference with police censors. Lieut. Charles Snyder of police censorship was out of the city today.

BAL TIC FLIGHT
IS 'DUNKERQUE'Over 64 Enemy Vessels
Sunk By Airmen; Water
Full Of Soldiers

London, May 3 (AP)—Germans attempting to flee the Reich by sea toward Denmark and Norway were slaughtered today by American, British and Canadian planes which sank or damaged more than 64 ships in day-long attacks off the Baltic coast of Schleswig-Holstein.

"Another Dunkerque" fliers described it, only this time it was Germans trying to get away and the Allies hitting their jumbled convoys of ships with bombs and rockets "like shooting fish in a barrel."

U. S. Ninth air force rocket-firing Thunderbolts and fighter-bombers joined this afternoon in the massacre which was started by the RAF last night with raids on the Kiel naval base.

The Ninth reported hitting 11 German ships of transport or cargo size and many other smaller craft.

The Nazis set sail from all available ports in every type of ship they could muster—from barges to 10,000-ton cargo ships and troop carriers, and even submarines—in a frantic effort to escape the British and Russian armies.

Waters near Kiel, Flensburg and Luebeck were ablaze with burning ships and the water was full of German soldiers rowing lifeboats and even swimming toward shore, where British troops waited to capture them, returning fliers reported.

Body Of Fuehrer
Easy To Identify,
Says Expatriate

Philadelphia, May 3 (AP)—Dr. Robert M. W. Kempner, chief legal adviser of the pre-Hitler German police, said today Adolf Hitler possessed certain physical characteristics which would enable the Allies to positively identify his body.

Kempner, who was in charge of the investigation of Hitler following the Fuehrer's arrest after the famous Munich "Beer Hall Putsch," said Hitler had an abnormally long right thumb, his right ear was decidedly pointed on top and he had a receding mouth.

The former German police official said the ex-Dictator's exact height was five feet, eight and one half inches. His shoulders were habitually stooped and although he always tried to correct this condition in public, the bone structure would reveal the stoop, he added.

Kempner, who fled Germany in 1939 and is now living in suburban Landsdowne, said these facts and the name of a prominent Berlin physician who could make positive identification have been turned over to federal authorities.

Islands In Baltic
Attacked By Reds

London, Friday, May 4 (AP)—The Luxembourg radio reported early today that Russian forces were attacking the Danish island of Laaland in the Baltic Sea.

The same broadcast also said the Danish island of Falster, which lies off the southern tip of Sjælland, where Copenhagen is located, also was being assaulted by Russian forces.

Both are 35 to 40 miles off the German coast north of Rostock.

DOGS QUANTINED

Lansing, May 3 (AP)—Dr. C. H. Clark, state veterinarian, today placed a dog quarantine on all of Berrien county, to extend until Aug. 1. It was the fifth county to be quarantined. Orders already had been issued for Calhoun, Barry, Monroe and Washtenaw counties.

OVER 150,000
NAZI SOLDIERS
IN SURRENDERBRITISH REPORTED
CROSSING INTO DENMARK

BY ROBERT EUNSON

Paris, Friday, May 4 (AP)—Mass surrenders swept through German armies of the north yesterday as the fall of Hamburg sounded the knell of all resistance east of the great port and the enemy high command itself declared the famed naval base of Kiel an open city.

More than 150,000 Germans laid down their arms to the British Second and U. S. Ninth armies along the Elbe by noon Thursday and thousands of others were giving up or being driven to their deaths as they tried to flee by sea. British tanks slashed on north-east within 20 miles of Denmark, churning over roads strewn with the burned out hulks of 800 vehicles caught in a tornado of aerial bombardment.

Frontier Crossed?
The British last were reported beyond Neumuenster, 16 miles south of Kiel, running roughshod through all the debris of a broken and beaten army.

The Luxembourg radio said the British had crossed the Kiel Canal and wholly unconfirmed Stockholm broadcasts recorded by the Federal Communications commission said the British had reached Eckenforde, on the Kiel Bay 15 miles northwest of the city.

(CBS Correspondent Charles Shaw reported from Malmo, Sweden, that British troops were reported to have crossed the south Danish frontier.)

Allied commanders wrote off all enemy opposition in the north as the British and the Americans joined up with the Russians on a solid 65-mile front stretching southward from Wismar on the Baltic.

There was chaos in the Baltic as German ships quit Kiel for Oslo and other Norwegian refuges under a raking fire from Allied fighter-bombers which sank or damaged 64 cargo-sized vessels.

Kiel Bay was lighted through the night by burning vessels, and on southeast as far as Luebeck British troops with guns ready waited to fish German troops either swimming or trying to reach shore by boat.

Linz Under Fire
A field dispatch said a German Dufkeld was in progress on both the east and west coasts of Schleswig-Holstein as the Germans shovelled off in anything that would float, apparently heading for a last stand in Norway.

The German communique also made an open city of Flensburg at the Danish frontier, indicating that the enemy intended to make no stand short of the border.

Resistance also was breaking up. In what is left of the southern redoubt, with the U. S. Seventh army hammering 21 miles deep into Austria to within seven miles of the big communications center of Linz.

(The Linz radio was heard broadcasting that the city was under fire, apparently by the Americans since the Russians from the east still were a considerable distance away.)

In concert with the Seventh army, the American Third army was shredding what remains of the Nazi redoubt in Bavaria.

Can't Count Captives
Breaking loose unopposed on a superhighway east of Munich, the Seventh army last was reported 25 miles from the city.

DELIVERIES OF PULPWOOD LAG Veneer Log Situation Also Remains Critical

With 1945 military and civilian pulpwood requirements six and a half per cent more than the total produced in 1944, pulpwood mill receipts are far short of the WPB goal, according to a statement released by the Forest Products Bureau of the War Production Board.

Mill receipts in the Lake states, totaling 302,000 cords for February, 1945, were off 21 per cent from receipts in the same month a year ago. The first two months' receipts approximated 555,000 cords.

A new pulp mill is being developed in Osego, Mich., to use hardwoods exclusively, the bulletin of the Lake States Experiment station reports. The intention is to use the hardwood pulp for making asphalt building paper confectionery and bakery papers.

Excelsior Prices Up

Increases of $3.25 per ton in the mill ceiling prices for f. o. b. carload lot shipments of baled basswood or poplar wood excelsior and wood wool produced in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota, have been announced by OPA. The higher prices are designed to compensate mills for higher production costs. The three states produce more than 50 per cent of all the wood excelsior and wood wool made in the United States.

The veneer log situation still remains critical. The February inventory was 51 per cent less than that reported for the same period last year. Total production of commercial and technical grades of hardwood veneer recently declined to an average of about 300,000,000 square feet a month as compared with the 1944 monthly average of 330,000,000 feet, and the 1943 monthly average of 390,000,000 feet. Military requirements are not being met on schedule.

More Dimension Plants?

Michigan furniture companies will have to modernize their plants and decrease the cost of their production to be able to compete successfully with the southern furniture industry after the war, a Forest Service official comments. One possibility is to eliminate the remanufacturing of lumber in their plants. Many furniture companies would welcome the chance to buy dimension lumber ready prepared for their product instead of manufacturing their own stocks. This would create an opportunity for the development of at least one good dimension plant in the Lower Peninsula, probably one or more in the Upper Peninsula, the official explained. These mills could draw on small sawmills for many miles around for their slabs, edgings, and other waste material.

Hines Buys U. P. Timber

In 1944, the Edward Hines Lumber company contracted for the purchase of 47,185,000 feet of timber in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan. When this purchase is consummated, the company said it would own approximately 106 million feet of timber at this location for possible sale or postwar operation. The company-owned timber in Wisconsin has now been exhausted and the plant closed.

Requirements for lumber are not expected to slacken during the year and present estimates indicate that 1945 production may be 10 1/2 billion feet short of war and civilian needs. Lack of sufficient manpower, tires, trucks, tractors; the drawn-out war in Europe and other cardinal causes are making the output of lumber shorter and shorter as the weeks and months go by, according to the U. S. department of commerce.

Laval Not Aware Of Spain's Stand On War Criminals

Montjuich Citadel, Spain, May 3 (P)—Pierre Laval, former Vichy Chief of Government, told Spanish authorities tonight he was unaware of Spain's promise to turn over war criminals to the United States, saying if he had been he "would not have come."

Laval arrived here in a German bomber yesterday and was imprisoned when he defied Spain's orders to leave the country.

Laval strolled along the battlements of this fortress' prison today, apparently happy to have escaped Benito Mussolini's fate even though he faces probable return to France, where he is under sentence to die.

(In Paris, reliable diplomatic sources said Spain probably will turn Laval over to the French government without waiting for a formal request for a transfer.

(A French foreign office statement broadcast by BBC and recorded in New York by NBC said "If Laval does not return to the frontier an extradition demand will be made.")

Hi-Y Clubs Meet With Cliff Drury To Plan Programs

Officers and advisors of the Escanaba and Gladstone high school Hi-Y clubs met Tuesday night with Cliff Drury, Upper Peninsula Hi-Y supervisor from the Detroit office of the Y.M.C.A., to make plans for the clubs' programs for the remainder of the year.

They also discussed plans for high school conferences in Escanaba and Gladstone next November. Plans were made at a dinner-meeting in the home economics department at the Escanaba senior high school. The meal was prepared and served by the home economics students of Miss Edna Marotz.

miles west of both Salzburg and Berchtesgaden, bastions within the redoubt, while the Third army was the same distance from Salzburg on the north.

The Third army likewise had driven into Czechoslovakia as much as six miles along a 50-mile front, seeking out the Nazis who, according to the Hamburg radio before it quit the air, were organizing for a stand to the death.

Surrender fever also gripped the German armies of the south, a field dispatch reporting that one Seventh army division alone captured 50,000 troops.

It was impossible to count the prisoners taken in northern Germany since Thursday noon, supreme headquarters said. One entire division surrendered to the British and another to the Americans.

(The London Daily Express said the Germans had quit in such numbers that Britain's facilities for feeding and housing them were inadequate.)

Only enemy opposition reported anywhere on the front of the western Allies was deep in the Alps, where the U. S. Seventh army ran into German soldiers defending a pass five miles west of Innsbruck in an area supposedly swept clean of opposition by German unconditional surrender to Allied armies in Italy Wednesday.

Russian Complaints On Holding Citizens Denied By America

Washington, May 3 (P)—The United States flatly denied today Russian complaints that Soviet citizens liberated from German prisons are being held by this country without notice to Russia.

The state department comment was issued simultaneously with an outburst of protest in Congress against the attitude taken by the U. S. S. R. on Poland.

"It is as heartening as it is commendable, Mr. Speaker," Rep. Dingell (D-Mich.) told the House, "That President Harry S. Truman, having a full grasp and understanding of the situation, has definitely served notice upon Russia, Mr. (Premier) Stalin, Mr. (Foreign Commissar) Molotov, and upon the entire world, that he stands uncompromisingly for the fulfillment of the understanding entered into under the Yalta agreement."

While the House observed Polish constitution day, other speakers demanded "Justice for Poland" and in the Senate Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) asserted that the Russian government should open occupied areas of eastern Europe to American newsmen "so that mistrust and suspicion can be eliminated."

Documents Prove Atrocity Tales Not Mere Propaganda

Paris, May 3 (P)—The psychological warfare division of supreme Allied headquarters, in a carefully documented study of the German occupation of France, said today that the Nazi brutality and cruelty imposed upon the people of France was "on a scale unequalled in history."

This sweeping indictment was based on the division's 13-volume study of the occupation administration in France which was prepared to "convince possible skeptics that the German atrocities are not just a lot of propaganda."

British and American officers, assisted by the French intelligence service, made an exhaustive study of the entire German administration during their occupation of France, and the results of their findings will shortly be published in both the United States and Great Britain.

Naval Casualties 5,551 At Okinawa

Guam, Friday, May 4 (P)—U. S. naval casualties of 5,551, including 1,131 killed, were reported by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz today for the Okinawa invasion and associated operations. The wounded totaled 2,816 and the missing, 1,604.

This brought total announced American casualties, including soldiers and marines, to 16,694. Nimitz earlier reported 11,413 ground casualties through April 27.

Jap ground casualties exceed 21,000.

War Loan Campaign Workers Organized

Plans for a community home canvass drive the Seventh war loan drive were formulated last night at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Frank H. Nolden, 407 First avenue south. The city has been divided into five districts for the campaign, and the five district leaders were present at the conference.

Wardens are to be appointed by the district captains, with about 10 for each district, and block leaders will be named later.

MUST BE PICKED QUICKLY

Asparagus grows as much as six inches in a day. It must be picked every day quickly because it grows so fast in warm weather. Stalks a few inches above the ground at daybreak must be picked by noon, or they become too tough and coarse to make the best quality.

NEW FUEHRER FLEES; HITLER BODY HUNTED

man said he could not interpret the "political reorganization" remark, but added that if it meant the Germans were surrendering all of Czechoslovakia an official announcement could be expected from Allied headquarters. Only 18 hours before the Nazi commander in Czechoslovakia had called upon his forces to rally around Doenitz and continue the fight.

Late today the Prague radio broadcast an order by Dr. Karl Frank, Minister of State for Bohemia and Moravia, pledging allegiance to Doenitz and the memory of Hitler, but there was no mention of continued resistance. The Free Czech radio reported that patriots were rising in such proportions that Nazi rule was at the vanishing point.

For the first time since the war began approaching its end, Moscow was reported rife with rumors that Germany was about to surrender unconditionally.

Big Shots Disappear

When Prime Minister Churchill failed to appear in the House of Commons this afternoon the report spread quickly that he had gone to Germany to attend the surrender ceremony. Another report had him leaving for a meeting with President Truman.

No one here professed to know, actually, whether Doenitz would surrender or would choose to fight on until he was tracked down at sea or perhaps in Norway's mountain-rimmed fjords.

No German broadcast had announced a state of mourning for Hitler or has told of any funeral plans. The Russians strongly doubted they would find him, either dead or alive, in the rubble heap of Berlin.

There was, as well, no trace of the other Nazi leaders—Himmler, Goebbels, Goering, Ribbentrop, Lev. None of them, apparently, was with Doenitz in his flight to Hamburg and to Kiel. The British were intrigued with the possibility of capturing Lord Haw Haw—William Joyce—the Renegade Briton, who was broadcasting for the Nazis at Hamburg up to two days ago.

No Emotion Among Custer Prisoners As Reich Crumbles

Fort Custer, Mich., May 3 (P)—The several thousand German prisoners of war stationed here are showing no outward sign of emotion at news of the disintegration of Germany, Hitler's reported death or the fall of Berlin, according to the camp's commanding officer, Maj. John M. Moore.

The stoicism with which they are meeting their fatherland's bad news may be attributed, Moore said, to rumors that have failed to materialize in the past, mixed with the realization—which some have felt for some time—that the defeat of Germany was inevitable.

The prisoners, Moore said, have shown no outward sign of emotion and have continued to go about their appointed tasks as usual. In compliance with terms of the Geneva Convention they are permitted to keep in touch with world events through newspapers and radio in the stockade.

Annual Banquet Is Enjoyed By Orpheus

Sixty-eight members and guests of the Orpheus Choral club enjoyed their annual club banquet at the Sherman hotel Tuesday evening.

Tables, placed in a large U-shape were attractively arranged with black-and-silver quarter-note place-cards, large black notes also being scattered down the center of the white cloth, and center-pieces of daffodils and pussy-willows for color contrast.

Miss Helen Snyder was toastmistress for the occasion. Harry Gruber of the Town Hall committee, R. P. Bowers, director of the Choral club, George Weinzaetner, club business manager, Fred Johnson, in charge of staging for the concert of April 17, and Charles Sherlock, club president, appeared on the program with short speeches.

Musical numbers were furnished by a ladies' quartette, including Mrs. John J. Bartel, Jr., Miss Anona Anderson, Mrs. Henry Wylie, and Mrs. O. L. McCormick, and the Choral club men's chorus. After the banquet, members enjoyed dancing, with the Sherman hotel orchestra furnishing the music.

ESCANABA WILL BE CRUISE STOP

S. S. North American
To Arrive May 29
And June 3

The S. S. North American of the Chicago, Duluth and Georgian Bay Transit company will make two cruise stops at Escanaba municipal dock this spring and other stops later in the season, City Manager A. V. Aronson was advised yesterday by H. R. Dow, Chicago, general agent of the company.

The cruises were originally scheduled and then cancelled when the company advised the city that it could not risk the danger of docking here unless two submerged obstructions near the new city dock were removed.

The city manager on Monday wrote the company that the obstructions will be completely removed within the next week or 10 days, and the company's general agent immediately reported that the cruise stops would be made here as originally scheduled.

First stop by the S. S. North American will be at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 29, on a Decoration Day cruise. The ship will be here for three hours and the several hundred passengers will go ashore during that period.

Second stop will be on a student cruise, and the ship is scheduled to arrive at 7 a. m. and stop over until 10 a.m.

The general agent of the company advised the city manager that other stops at Escanaba would be made later in the season. He requested that Capt. J. O. Spjut of the North American, Chicago, that a man would be on hand at the dock to handle the ship's lines.

The submerged obstructions are now being removed by Capt. B. J. Gallagher of Escanaba at a cost of $2,428. The work was ordered by the city council, which last night confirmed the authorization.

One of the obstructions is an old crib, and the other the hull of a wreck. There will be a depth of 20 feet of water at both sites when the removal is completed.

PEARCE URGES PLANNING NOW

Communities Face Tough
Problems In Post-
War Period

E. L. Pearce, Marquette banker and chairman of the Committee for Economic Development in the upper peninsula, emphasized the importance of postwar planning in an address delivered yesterday afternoon to the upper peninsula law enforcement association at the Sherman hotel.

Pearce emphasized the importance of economic stability in solving the problems that will arise at the end of the war and contended that economic stability may be achieved only by proper planning now. He added that the CED has been encouraging communities, large and small, throughout the upper peninsula to make necessary surveys for the purpose of evaluating their employment problems in the postwar period.

In the business meeting that followed Mr. Pearce's luncheon address, the law enforcement officers discussed the problems of the returning war veterans as they affect police work. It was decided to hold the next meeting of the association at Iron Mountain, at which time a representative of the army will be present.

Laval Faces Doom

PIERRE Laval, the slimy French politician who sold out his country to the Nazis for personal gain, is reported to have been locked up in a jail in Spain.
Observing how Benito Mussolini went to an ignominious death at the hands of Italian patriots, Laval must have realized a similar fate would be in store for him if any true Frenchman captured him. There was no chance for him to escape to Berlin, for the German capital has fallen to the Russians. Hitler and Goebbels are dead, and Laval's other Nazi friends are rapidly approaching their doom.

And so, our modern "man without a country" escaped by plane to Spain, Madrid reports he was at first told to return to France, but he refused. Then, he was imprisoned in a Barcelona fortress, and Generalissimo Franco lost no time in announcing he would turn him over to the Allies whenever they want him.

Incidentally, Franco is jumping over backwards now to please the Allies. For a long time, the Spanish dictator swallowed the Hitlerian propaganda about the "decadent democracies." Not many months ago, Franco expressed the hope the Axis would win the war.

It was Franco who overthrew a duly-elected government in Spain by military force, aided and abetted by Hitler's and Mussolini's airplanes and guns. Doubtless, the people of Spain will want a government of their own choosing in the not distant future. They don't want Franco, and it is hoped that the Allies will not allow the Spanish dictator's blandishments to swerve them from their purpose to rid the world of tyranny and oppression. If there is to be freedom and democracy in Spain, Franco should go the way of Mussolini and other men of his ilk.

Reopening Treasure Chest

THE Allied invasion of Borneo is the first important step in regaining the natural riches of the Dutch East Indies, which have been under Japanese control since early 1942.

Borneo and the other main islands of the East Indies—Java, Sumatra and Celebes—represent the treasure chest of the Far East. From the East Indies and from adjacent Malaya on the mainland of Southeast Asia came in normal years 30 per cent of the world's supply of rubber, 65 per cent of its tin, 85 per cent of its pepper, 30 per cent of copra, 30 per cent of natural resins and 17 per cent of petroleum.

Admittedly, it will be some time before any substantial quantities of these badly needed supplies are made available to the Allies, but some benefits can be expected almost immediately. On Tarakan, for instance, near the spot where the Australian troops landed, are more than 500 oil wells which produce diesel fuel so pure that it can be burned in diesel engines just as it comes from the ground after sand has been strained from it. No further refinement is necessary. The importance of this is evident when one realizes that most of our naval vessels in the far east are diesel-powered.

The availability of both natural rubber and tin from the East Indies will eliminate current drastic shortages in both of these commodities. U. S. stockpiles of tin have been dwindling gradually and we now have on hand only 70,000 tons. It is impossible for the Japs to destroy this source of tin because tin from the Dutch islands can be dredged from the ocean bottom. American smelters, constructed since the outbreak of the war, are ready to refine the ore as rapidly as it can be shipped to this country.

Assuming that the Japs will destroy stockpiles of raw rubber when they retreat and will damage plantations wherever possible, it has been estimated that it will require two years to restore normal production of rubber from that area. Nevertheless, experts who have made an analysis of the outlook, report that 28,000 tons would become available within the first three months, and a total of 295,000 tons within the first year after the reoccupation. An additional 995,000 tons would become available during the second year.

Before the war, we relied considerably on the East Indies for supplies of quinine to combat malaria, but the United States has since developed synthetic drugs that are equally good for that purpose.

Purple Gang Accused

FORMER members of Detroit's notorious Purple Gang have been arrested on a charge of conspiring to kill State Senator Warren G. Hooper, a principal witness in Michigan's infamous legislative graft cases.
The courts will have to decide whether the men are guilty, of course, but if they are convicted it will not mean that justice has been administered to all those involved in the plot. If Senator Hooper was slain by these particular defendants he was murdered by men, who held no personal grudge against him and were doing the "bumping off" for pay.

The real murderers would be those who hired the professional killers to put Senator Hooper out of the way so he could not testify against them in court. The Michigan legislative graft situation is reminiscent of the prohibition era when Al Capone and his gangsters flourished in their careers of crime. Chicago had nothing on Lansing.

Last Day For Gardens

TODAY is the deadline for filing applications for Victory Gardens in the municipal plots on the west side. In view of the current food situation, one might expect that every garden plot would be planted this year.

The national food tangle has reached emergency proportions. Victory in Europe has only increased the problem, for there are millions more civilians that must be fed in order to prevent widespread suffering and chaos. Liberation and conquest of large areas have given us greatly increased responsibilities.

To prevent civil revolts and future wars it is necessary to adequately clothe and feed the innocent victims of the present global conflict. We must resign ourselves to a little belt-tightening now. However, the situation can be relieved in no small measure by the growing of more vegetables in Victory Gardens this summer.

Argentina Snubbed

WHILE Argentina has been given bare admission to the United Nations conference, the United States has voiced its opposition to giving the South American nation an official position in the San Francisco parley until she has definitely proved herself to be a good neighbor.

Although Argentina apparently has gained considerable support among the Latin American republics for her plea, the U. S. delegates are certainly not yet convinced that she is entitled to full recognition. After all, Argentina maintained cordial relations with the Axis until the eleventh hour, making the break to the Allied side only after the defeat of Germany was a foregone conclusion.

The present regime in Argentina was established through a military revolt, and is no more representative of the people of that country than the Moscow-inspired Lublin government in Poland. It would be a severe letdown for the people of warring democratic nations if the Johnny-come-lately countries could share in their prestige and benefits without having assumed any responsibility for the extermination of totalitarianism and aggression in this world.

My goodness, I'll never get to understand those Japanese; did you hear about that Tokyo broadcast which declared that our air raids were good for their morale? The theory was that the more private property was destroyed, the less property they would have left to worry about.

This reasoning so impressed me that I made up a little poem:

Every time we bomb the Jap,
Cries the pleased, slap-happy chap:
"Honorable house has went—
So no more worry over rent!"

I don't think that Japanese philosophy is going to work here, though. I tried it on George by suggesting that if he burned all his shirts he wouldn't have to worry about them not coming back from the laundry. He didn't say anything, but he keeps watching me suspiciously out of the corner of his eye.

The answer to all the "Wish You Were Here" cards from San Francisco is, "So do we!"

"Mosquitoes Give Berlin a Pasting"—headline. That reminds us—we must put up our screens.

The new bathing suits should draw enough men to keep our coastline protected all summer.

Thanks to spring, we now can name our own seven wonders of the world—Sunday through Saturday!

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

HANDBOOK OF PRACTICAL ENGLISH
Q. A question has arisen in our class about "as if" and "as though." We think they are interchangeable, but our local newspaper says "as if" is the correct form. Can you help us on this question?

A. They are indeed interchangeable. No authority to my knowledge holds either one to be better usage than the other. Perhaps your paper prefers "as if" because it takes less space than "as though."

English students should note this important rule, however: The subjunctive "were" (and not "was") should be used with "as if" and "as though," thus:

Correct: She looks as if she were tired. He acts as though he were offended.

Q. Edwin C. Hill recently pronounced the word crevices as "KREV-i-seez." This caused quite a discussion at a recent teachers' meeting, but we were unable to determine whether the "eez" sound for "eez" is correct or not. What's the good word, please?

A. The "eez" is pronounced "eez" only in the case of certain Latin words the singular forms of which end in "-is," as: basis, bases (BAY-seez); oasis, oases (oh-AY-seez); crisis, crises (KRY-seez), etc.

But in words ending in "-e," the plural form "eez" should not have the "eez" sound. In all such words the "eez" should be pronounced "ez," as, base, bases (BAY-sez); crevice, crevices (KREV-i-sez); hose, hoses (HOE-zez); service, services (SER-vi-sez), etc.

Note that the plural of base is bases and that the plural of basis is also bases. But there is a difference in the pronunciation, as the foregoing rules show: base, bases (BAY-sez); basis, bases (BAY-seez). Thus it is plain that "naval BAY-seez" can have no sanction.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Nearing the end of his third week in office, President Truman is proceeding quietly with the organization of his administration. By deliberate design, he is trying to keep the focus of public attention on the conference in San Francisco rather than on the White House in Washington.

The president believes that the success of the conference is paramount. But he also believes that there is little he can do at the present moment except, along with the rest of us, to wait and watch and give the delegation that was chosen by President Roosevelt the utmost backing.

Truman is convinced that the success of the conference depends on the attitude of the Russians. They can make it or they can break it.

He feels strongly, too, that the Soviet Union should live up to the agreement on Poland made at the Yalta meeting of the big three. That was the tenor of his remarks to Foreign Commissioner Molotov when the head of the Soviet delegation stopped here on his way to San Francisco.

—MUST KEEP BARGAIN—

In the plain language of his Missouri background, he says that if you make a bargain, then it's up to you to live up to it. That's at the base of the day-to-day dealings people have with each other, and it has to be the base of the dealings of nations one with the other.

With respect to Poland, the president has never shown any wavering. The pledge made at Yalta to revise the Lublin government seems to Truman all the more binding because one of the parties to the agreement is dead. It is almost a sacred obligation; a pledge of good faith to the leader who can no longer champion his own cause, which was the cause of Democracy.

To the callers who come to see him, Truman has little to say. He lets them do the talking. He is proving to be a good listener, which is something President Roosevelt definitely was not.

The scope of the new president's calling list is a constant marvel to the White House veterans who go back to the early Roosevelt days. On the official calling list are from 15 to 20 names, each caller carefully budgeted as to time. At no point in his career would that have been possible for FDR.

One of the most charming failings of the new president's predecessor was his fondness for talk. He would keep a visitor long past the appointed time while other callers cooled their heels in the outer office. Often his talk was so engaging that the caller would forget his real errand and listen, enchanted, to the musical Roosevelt voice.

No contrast could be greater than Truman behind the same desk in the big oval office. Apart from old friends and Missouri cronies, whom he has seen in numbers, most of the president's callers are experts of one sort or another—military, diplomatic, economic. He lets them do the talking, only occasionally prodding them with a question.

—ENJOYS OLD FRIENDSHIPS—

He is most at ease with old friends of his senate days, such as Federal Judge Lewis Schwellenbach of Spokane, Wash., who has been staying with the Trumans. Truman and Schwellenbach were junior senators together. They sat in the back row and, in the novitiate stage, they became firm friends.

Schwellenbach, who left the senate five years ago to take the federal judgeship, is being reported as a candidate for a cabinet post, perhaps that of secretary of labor. But here, too, Truman is proceeding cautiously.

A day or two after Roosevelt's death, the members of the Roosevelt cabinet submitted their resignations to Truman. Most of these letters have not yet been answered, and the delay is causing no little anxiety among those who are most eager to stay on in the new regime.

This policy of caution is partly to avoid anything that might disturb the course of the great assize at San Francisco. Truman is determined to give the U. S. delegation, and particularly the chairman, Secretary of State Stettinius, his unqualified support. He was upset by printed rumors that Stettinius would be replaced, knowing very well that this did not help the position of the chairman of our delegation at San Francisco.

The president has shown in his first month a capacity for hard work. Gradually he is adjusting himself to the great burden of the presidency.

Ho, hum—wasn't it about this time of year that Rep Van Winkle dozed off and slept for 20 years?

There would be fewer day dreamers if there was a way of taxing a man's yearnings.

The latest thing in new spring clothes is a married woman. Ask the hubby who has to wait.

The Fly in the Loving Cup

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

FOLLOW THE GIRLS—There was a reference some time back in this column to Walter Long, one-time stock company player who often entertained in Escanaba and married an Escanaba girl. This was many years ago, of course, and today actor Long is a member of the cast of "Follow the Girls" now playing in New York City. He has also been seen by local folks in a number of Hollywood epics, including a recent

Donathan

Laurel and Hardy comedy. A couple days ago Ed Voght of the Mead drug store in Escanaba had a letter from his son, Ken, who is now in New York City, but was to go to Buffalo. He is employed by Loew's Inc., movie distributors. Ken Voght had seen the column item that Long was playing in "Follow the Girls," and he wrote his father:

"The other night I went over to the stage door of the 44th Street theatre which is just across the street from the hotel, and inquired for him. When he came in I asked him if he remembered a little town up in Northern Michigan and the drug store up there. He started in then and we 'kibbled' for about thirty minutes until he had to go in and get his makeup on. He certainly looks good and is typically an actor. One could never mistake that."

"He remembered you and the store well, and he also recalled 'Blue Ribbon Johnson' and Snyder Brothers. I gave him my card and address and he said that he would try to get in touch with us later and have a couple hours in which to talk about the old days at home."

"He was quite surprised to find that we do not have any more 'lumberjacks' up there and wanted to know what had become of the 100 saloons that used to be up there. I know that you would get quite a bang out of all this. You might tell the Bugler that Walter is very hale and hearty. He also spoke of the Winninger boys and told me Adolph was still in Hollywood and was being taken care of by Charlie."

(The Winninger brothers played stock here in the days before movies. Charles Winninger is still doing excellently in the cinema for all his advanced years.)

THEY'RE NASTURTIUMS—

Recently there were related the incident in an Escanaba grade school where the children brought seeds to plant. One little girl presented the teacher with some "Hunkel's", a name that left the teacher wondering what sort of seeds those were.

The seeds were planted, nevertheless, and the latest report from the "Hunkel" front is that they are nasturtiums. Mr. Hunkel, as most gardeners know, is a well-known seed man—not a flower.

WOODS BABIES—It is at this season of the year that nature's children are venturing farther afield with their parents. And it is at this season of the year that many of these woods babies are seen and often taken as pets. To keep a baby deer or bear as a pet, however, first requires the permission of the Michigan conservation authorities. Seldom is this permission given, for conservationists know that few of these babies survive.

At Cornell the other day the school children were amused at the antics of a tiny bear cub, one of three which had been found in the woods. August Lundgaard, "mayor" of Cornell, reported that two of the cubs had been brought to town, that one had been returned to the mother and the other would be taken back to the

INTO THE PAST

10 Years Ago—1935

Mr. and Mrs. John McKay and daughter Leona have returned from a visit in Marinette.

Mr. and Mrs. William Finnegan and family, 609 S. Ninth Street, have returned from St. Petersburg, Fla., where they spent the winter months.

Manistique—Mr. and Mrs. Merwin White, Harrison Beach, are the parents of a son, Ronald Lyman, born Monday at their home.

Merton Reno and Mildred Farley, both of Garden, have applied for a marriage license at the office of the county clerk in Escanaba.

Garden—Mr. and Mrs. William Turpin and family of Manistique were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. William Winter, Sr.

William Johnston of Gladstone won the declamatory contest in the Upper Peninsula finals held at Marquette.

Detroit—Admiral William Sims, retired, dismissed ominous forebodings of danger to the United States from foreign powers today with the remark, "I think some of those fellows down in Washington are crazy."

20 Years Ago—1925

Fifteen little friends helped Lyle Utt celebrate his fifth birthday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Utt, 956 Stephenson ave. Games were played, after which a lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Smith returned home, after spending several weeks at points on the Pacific coast.

Mrs. H. Leury of Menominee arrived here to take charge of the Fair Store millinery department during their sale.

Manistique—Mrs. Andrew Maitland has been awarded an automobile, given away by the Forty and Eight club of the Manistique American Legion.

woods Wednesday evening.

And Glenn Ohman, who has a farm at West Gladstone, recently captured five coyote pups on his land. Tuesday night he came to Escanaba and from the Elks club telephoned to report the capture. He said that he planned to turn them in to the conservation office, but the office was closed.

The conservation department doesn't care what happens to baby coyotes, because the "cute" pups grow up to be predators that raid farms. They also kill many game birds and small animals. For that reason the state pays a bounty on coyotes and wolves.

STILL COMING IN—The United National Clothing Collection campaign rolls merrily on in Delta county despite "announcement" that it has ended.

The other day a couple cars from the county drove up to the collection center building in the 600 block, Ludington street, and the folks got out and unloaded a number of boxes of clothing which had been contributed to bring relief to the people of war-torn countries. Because the collection center was closed, the boxes were piled in the entryway.

It has been this same enthusiasm which made the drive so successful. Altogether more than two carloads (20 tons) of used clothing was collected.

Included in the collection, an Escanaba truck driver reports, were 17 boxes of clothing from Ensign where the drive was sponsored by the townships Red Cross unit, and eight or nine boxes from Garden with more to come.

LOTS OF BRICKS—The crew hired by Capt. B. J. Gallagher to operate his equipment in removing obstructions from the vicinity of the city dock discovered that an old crib protecting an unused sewer outlet was filled with bricks. Previously it was supposed the crib had been anchored with rocks. The crib was probably built some 50 or 60 years ago.

"Bricks must have been cheaper in those days," said City Manager A. V. Aronson.

By Leonard Lyons

THE FIGHT OVER the reapportionment of David Lillienthal as head of TVA—a fight marked by the fact that his opponent, Sen. McKellar of Tenn., now sits with the Cabinet—appears to be over, with Pres. Truman reappointing him. George Killian, assistant treasurer of the Dem. National Committee, is expected to succeed Ed Pauley, who soon will leave for Russia. Donald M. Nelson, who was preparing to resign only a few weeks ago, is remaining in government. Nelson's power again is in the ascendancy. Gen. Somervell, with whom Truman clashed when the Truman Committee investigated the Army's Canal project, will find his range somewhat limited now.

MRS. PIERPONT MORGAN HAMILTON is going overseas for the Red Cross. Her husband won the Congressional Medal of Honor during the invasion of Africa. Mrs. Harry Truman has been taking Spanish lessons. The Norden Bombsight-Lt. Commander Corrigan prosecution for alleged war frauds will be held in the fall. Ambassador Laurence Steinhardt, now in N. Y., is awaiting word to leave for his new post in Prague. His family will proceed there from Ankara. Maj. Gen. C. M. Wesson will be assigned to the FEA, in charge of the Soviet branch. Myrna Loy was at Leroy Sanitarium under her maiden name, Mary Williamson.

DR. ROBERT L. JOHNSON, president of Temple University, wrote to the Governors of all the States asking them to support the designation of Philadelphia's Independence Hall as the home of the United Nations Council. 25 Governors replied; one expressed indifference and one insisted that the Black Hills of Dakota would be a better place. Mayor Wilson Wyatt of Louisville will be the Democratic choice to succeed Senator Happy Chandler. Prime Minister Mackenzie King has a top-hat with him at the San Francisco Conference. He wore that hat at the Roosevelt funeral at Hyde Park. He entered the compound, quickly noticed that his was the only top-hat, retired unobtrusively and then returned wearing a fedora.

GUY VAUGHN of Curtis Wright read that another Congressional probe of his company was being planned and requested Senator Mead's War Investigating Committee to do the job. "If we HAVE to be investigated," he said, "we prefer the job to be done by this former Truman Committee."

Audrey Christie, who has been one-third of the cast of "Voice of the Turtle" ever since its Broadway premiere, finally will leave the show this summer. She has a film job. When Stokowski's 17-year-old daughter heard that her father had married young Gloria Vanderbilt, she said: "Daddy is getting to be more like Errol Flynn every day."

THE U. S. GOVERNMENT will take over the entire alcohol output of Cuba, for use in our rubber program. Joe Fromm, who fought in the African and Sicilian campaigns, will be the only American commissioned in the Indian Army. He'll be a captain, and will work in New Delhi preparing broadcasts regarding India's contribution in this war. Frances Perkins was at a dinner in Washington where the lights suddenly went out. Someone took her arm to help her up the steps. "Oh, I can manage all right in the dark," said the Secretary of Labor. "I always knew that the carrots I've been eating so regularly would be helpful some day."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

DREW PEARSON

(Col. R. S. Allen now on active service)

San Francisco—On April 25 and 26 this column revealed that one day after President Roosevelt was buried, a meeting was held in the state department at which his previous policy of a hard peace for Germany was reversed.

State Department appeasers proposed a new line favoring a soft peace.

On April 27, one day following aforesaid publication, President Truman called an important meeting in the White House. Attending it were Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, Under-Secretary of State Joe Grew, Under-Secretary of the Navy Bard, Assistant Secretary of War John McCloy, and Leo Crowley, Federal Economic Administrator.

At the meeting Truman laid down a flat rule that Roosevelt's previous hard peace policy was not to be changed.

This hard peace policy is basically that laid down by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau last autumn, following Roosevelt's discovery that the army and State Department had been planning appeasement. The Morgenthau plan calls for the wiping out of all German industry which could contribute to war, the taking over of the Nazi educational system, the banishment of Nazi school books, and a long occupation.

President Roosevelt himself contributed one pet idea of his own, namely that military music be banned in Germany for the next decade or so. He believed the playing of military music aroused people's warlike emotions. Instead he proposed giving the Germans an extra quota of Wagner, Beethoven, Strauss, etc.

The White House has had indications that the Russians also will go for a hard peace. Big remaining question mark is the British. Many of their banks and business firms collaborated closely with the Nazis before the war, and after this war they will control the most highly industrial sections of Germany. What they will do with these areas remains to be seen.

Note—Up until the middle of last week, Postmaster General Frank Walker was scheduled to be the U. S. member of the reparations commission. But at the last minute he walked into the White House and asked to be excused. Frank has had several deaths in his family, was deeply moved by the death of his old friend F. D. R., and would like to retire to private life.

Friends of handsome Senator "Long Tom" Connally attribute publicity rivalry between him and Senator Vandenberg of Michigan as the reason for the leak about armistice talks with Himmler.

For years the genial Texan has helped battle Roosevelt's foreign policies through the senate. But last fall Roosevelt began playing up to Vandenberg as one of the leading ex-isolationist Republicans with considerable influence in the senate, and at one meeting of senate leaders it was especially noticeable that Roosevelt went out of his way to defer to the Michigan senator.

It was: What do you think of this, Van? And what do you think of that? until the neglected senator from Texas was obviously piqued.

One little-noticed difference between the U. S. and Great Britain on one hand, and Russia on the other hand, at San Francisco is the Western Allies attitude toward punishing war criminals.

It may get squeezed out in the discussions between Stettinius, Eden and Molotov but the Russians took an alarmist view of the way in which the state department squeezed out Pell as head of the American delegation to the war crimes commission in London.

The real inside story of Pell's ouster has never before been told. What actually happened was that at one of his last commission meetings in London, Pell proposed that every German holding Nazi party membership cards from number 1 to 100,000 (the men who originally founded the Nazi movement) be put to death without trial.

This proposal so infuriated appeasement-minded British members of the commission that they tipped off state department pals in Washington, who went to work on Pell and caused his early removal.

Here is the general conversation which took place between President Truman, one-time Missouri farm boy accidentally hurt into the presidency, and Foreign Minister Molotov, who before 1939 had never been outside his own country.

The first 15 minutes of their 40-minute conversation dealt with regrets over President Roosevelt's death and Truman's delight that Molotov had come to the United Nations conference. Then the conversation turned to Poland, and Truman reminded Molotov of the Yalta pledge that some of the London Poles would be brought into the Lublin cabinet in order to make it a Democratic government.

Truman said that since Yalta this pledge not only had been ignored, but that Russia had made the Lublin government as now constituted an accomplished fact by signing a long-term alliance with it.

Truman said that the United States will keep its own pledges and therefore expects its Allies to do the same.

This was told to Molotov in Truman's quiet but direct manner, coupled with many expressions of admiration for Russia and the desire for closer cooperation. Afterward, he suggested that Molotov talk with Secretary Stettinius and officials of the state department to see if an agreement could not be worked out.

HOW DO YOU KEEP YOUR TOWELS SO SNOWY-WHITE?

OH, THAT'S EASY, I USE CLOROX!

CLOROX is Extra-Gentle in bleaching. It makes white cottons and linens snowy-white (brightens fast colors), makes laundry fresh, sanitary. And Clorox lessens rubbing, thus prolonging life of fabrics.

TOWELS usually get dingier, grimmer, more stained and discolored than other white cottons and linens. That's one reason why they need the bleaching and stain-removing efficiency of Clorox to keep their whiteness up to "guest towel" standards. Another reason they need Clorox is for the sanitation it provides. Then too, bleaching with Clorox does away with the need for vigorous rubbing that's so harmful to linens. Clorox is ultra-refined, extra-gentle...it is free from caustic, an exclusive, patented quality-feature.

For Sanitary Kitchens! Use Clorox in routine cleansing of refrigerators, sinks, drainboards, china and glassware; dishcloths and dish towels; floors, garbage containers...as an added safeguard to health. Clorox is extra-efficient in disinfecting, it also deodorizes and removes stains.

For Hygienically Clean Bathrooms! Bacteria thrive in bathrooms unless hygienically cleansed. Play safe...reduce chances of infection. Use Clorox in routine cleansing of washbasins, bathtubs, toilet bowls; tile, enamel, linoleum, wood surfaces. Simply follow directions on the label.

When it's CLOROX-CLEAN... it's Hygienically Clean!

ELECTRIC BRAIN

An electric brain has been developed which makes it possible to machine giant propellers for our fighting planes 700 per cent faster than was formerly possible. A tracer automatically guides two sharp cutting tools over the surface of the propeller model to be cut and makes it possible to do in two days the job that formerly took two weeks.

Visit To Concentration Camp Like Bad Nightmare Says Army Surgeon

"The entire thing was like a bad nightmare—really horrible," writes Capt. J. C. Booren to his wife here in telling of a visit to a German concentration camp at Buchenwald. "I only wish that those who are going to write the peace terms could visit this camp," he continued.

Capt. Booren is a battalion surgeon with Patton's Third Army. Mrs. Booren, the former Helen Patton, is residing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Patton, for the duration.

The letter follows: "Yesterday, I had an experience which I shall never forget. I visited the German concentration camp at Buchenwald near Weimar which had recently been captured by our army. You no doubt have read about it in the papers by this time.

"The camp which is located out in the country has, at one time, held 70,000 prisoners. These prisoners were brought from Russia, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, France, Belgium, Holland and Germany—mostly for political reasons or because they were Jews. As we entered the gates, one of the inmates came up to us and offered to guide us through. Prior to the war, he was a successful engineer in Hungary, but one would never know it to look at him now. He spoke good English and gave us a full description of everything.

"Coming through the gates we entered a very large courtyard in which the prisoners were made to stand for hours in the cold or rain, while roll call was taken. Here also were racks where some of them were tied and then beaten by the S. S. troops who used wooden clubs. They also used to hang some of the prisoners by their arms on hooks—their arms extending backwards and up and their feet off the ground for 2 or 3 hours.

"The prisoners were forced to work 10 to 16 hours a day in nearby stone quarries. If they stopped for a rest the SS boys would beat them with the butts of their rifles. The only food they received each day was a bowl of soup, a few potatoes and some bread with a little oleo. The Germans conducted a systematic starvation. As many as 1500 died in a week. These were taken care of by a large crematory containing many ovens. When we visited this place, there were still charred bones on the grades. Outside many corpses were piled like cordwood—waiting their turn.

"Their barracks—about the same size as one we used back in the States for 50 men—was the quarters for 700 men. They had wooden bunks (6 x 15 feet) with no mattresses. In these 16 men were made to sleep, head to foot, with a few blankets thrown over them all. As we visited them, army ambulances were taking away the prisoners to hospitals. They were even too weak to crawl out of the bunks. Talk about the 'living dead'—I've now seen them. Nothing but skin and bones.

"But that's enough of this sorry picture.

"I'm so thankful that you and Jeff are safely settled in the best country in the world. And I can't wait to get back with you again. * * *

"This is just one of the many similar camps that have been taken by the Allies. The army encourages us to see them if possible and to take pictures, which I did. They take civilians through also, to show them what their proud army has done. The town mayor and his wife in a village near one camp, came home and committed suicide after they were shown the stark facts. Of course, all the civilians profess ignorance of what went on behind the walls, but that 'cute very little lie' with me—they were all willing to back their government when it was their benefit. It makes my blood boil every time I think of it.

"But that's enough of this sorry picture.

"I'm so thankful that you and Jeff are safely settled in the

Shipmates' Pennies Help Buy Bonds for Arnold F. Bentz jr.

Pennies which came from shipmates of Petty Officer Arnold Bentz who is aboard a U. S. aircraft carrier in the Pacific theater, helped buy two war bonds for Arnold Floyd Bentz Jr., three-week-old son of Petty Officer Bentz.

Yesterday a pupil from Mrs. Myron Goodman's room who is aiding in the bond drive came back to the school lugging two big sacks of pennies. One of the sacks was a miniature duffelbag marked "Bundles for the Bluejackets." Inquiry disclosed that when Officer Bentz' shipmates knew that he was an expectant father they pooled their pennies and sent them along for the infant. In one sack was 1875 pennies. In the other was 875 to which Mrs. Bentz added $10 for a second bond.

Mrs. Bentz is the former Lillian Gabrielson and she is residing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Erick Gabrielson on North Eighth street.

Pvt. Joseph Poulin, who has been serving with U. S. army forces in the Mediterranean theater of war, has arrived to spend a 45-day furlough with his mother, Mrs. Adeline Poulin.

CELEBRATIONV-E Day Observance
Here To Be Quiet
And Reverent

V-E day, due to become a reality with each new broadcast of the news, will be observed quietly and reverently in Manistique.

In compliance with the recent request of President Truman that America continue with its tasks until victory is complete, city officials and officials of the Chamber of Commerce are making no plans for a community observance of the event.

Local churches while noting this very important event in world history, will regard it as an occasion for prayer and humility rather than for rejoicing.

At St. Francis de Sales Catholic church prayers for the safety of our boys and for ultimate victory will continue on the day to day basis.

At St. Alban's Episcopal church, a service of thanksgiving will be held at 7:30 on the day that official notice of the end of hostilities is made. The service will arrive before 6 o'clock in the evening. In the event that the news comes later than that, the service will be held the evening of the following day.

The Ministerial association, made up of pastors of the First and Bethel Baptist, the Free Methodist, the First Methodist and Redeemer Presbyterian churches, agreed some time ago to hold a meeting of thanksgiving and prayer at the Presbyterian church on the evening of the day that victory in Europe is announced.

It has been generally agreed that the time for jubilation should be when complete victory is won.

Quota Passed In Clothing Collection

Although the United National Clothing Collection drive ended officially last Saturday, residents of Manistique are continuing to donate to the cause and their gifts are being gladly accepted, R. G. Hentschell, chairman of the local drive states.

The county quota of three tons was reached Monday and since that time additional donations have helped exceed the quota by several hundred pounds.

Those wishing to give clothing may deliver them to the fire hall or call Crawford & Holland at 190 who will arrange for pickup service.

Mr. Hentschell, in thanking all who assisted in the drive, made special mention of Fire Chief Elmer Boal, who with his firemen, sorted, packed and shipped the clothes and to Ira Crawford, who furnished trucks to pick up the donations. School children were also commended for the part they played in the effort.

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatism, pain, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

SCHOOLS PLAY
PART IN DRIVE"Buy A Bond For Me" To Be Campaign
Slogan

Efforts to emulate and surpass the splendid record made by Michigan school children in the Sixth War Loan drive, when more than one million bonds were purchased by them, will be made in the current bond drive, Lauritz Drevdahl, chairman of the school drive in Schoolcraft county announces.

Although the official opening of the Seventh War Loan drive is not due to open until May 14, the school campaign has already begun, Mr. Drevdahl states. The reason given for this is that school will close at the end of this month and the time for putting the drive across is, therefore, short.

"Buy A Bond For Me," has been adopted as the slogan for the school drive and it will be used to emphasize the importance of parents purchasing bonds to insure their future—particularly in providing for their education. A quota of $22 per pupil has been set. The school quota for the state has been set at five million dollars.

"Michigan schools hold first place among schools in the nation for the purchase of War Bonds. Let us do our part in helping to maintain that enviable position," says Mr. Drevdahl.

WASTE PAPER
DRIVE MAY 12Sale Of The Paper Will Go To Funds For Boy Scouts

A house to house waste paper drive in which the entire community is asked to cooperate will be conducted on Saturday, May 12, when Boy Scouts will accompany trucks throughout the city and gather paper left for them at the doorsteps.

The drive will have added cause for support in that besides helping to alleviate a serious shortage of paper it will further the Boy Scout movement in Manistique. The paper donated will be sorted, baled and sold and the proceeds of the sale will go to the Boy Scouts.

People wishing to donate are asked to tie up or weigh down their bundles and leave them on the front porch where the Boy Scouts will gather them up.

Communication

CLAIMS UNFAIRNESS

Manistique, Michigan,
May 2, 1945.

Dear Sirs:

This letter will act as my resignation from your schools. While your superintendent may cite only one instance as a reason for my resignation, there are numerous reasons which might tend to be too lengthy for a letter of this kind. But I do wish to make the statement that it is not only for myself I am resigning. The treatment of other teachers led me to believe that, by my presence, I was condoning a form of intellectual barbarism.

Though I have been informed repeatedly through various sources that the superintendent of schools looks unfavorably upon teacher discussions with school board members, naturally my present status does not prohibit such remarks. May I say at the outset that a system of school board-teacher-superintendent conferences would help to ease the situation and make for a better school system in Manistique. From my short stay here, I have made the observation that perhaps a too rosy picture of school conditions has been painted for you by your superintendent. It is quite certain that such a program leads to autocracy of the most distasteful form.

The recent contract "debacle" illustrates this autocracy very well. It was the opinion of many teachers with whom I talked, that in view of the financial straits of the school district, either no raises should have been given, or that the available money should have been equally distributed among the teachers. Your system seems to award money raises, not in reward for faithful service and continued excellence, but for "expediency" as your superintendent termed it, which is no more than an attempt to hold teachers, regardless of experience who might be prompted to move elsewhere. It should be obvious that such teachers, without the interests of the school at heart are the ones least qualified for advances in pay.

May I assure you that I have enjoyed the pupils I have taught in Manistique. If I regret leaving, it is because I regret leaving them. I have made many friends among them, and I think they have received a "square deal" from me. All school teachers are inclined to become somewhat dictatorial, because of the nature of their positions in society. That is why I think a school board-teacher-superintendent committee would do Manistique public schools a great service.

If you choose to ignore this letter, then the blame for subsequent conditions will be on your shoulders.

In closing, I would like to repeat a remark I heard. It was said that these war years are trouble some only because of the war pressure on minds. Really it is not so much that, but this period in educational history offers teachers a chance for professional ethical advancement to a position where they are given an opportunity to stand up for their human rights. The war has relieved minds of financial uneasiness of saying dangerous things, so that teachers, as well as superintendents and principals may have their say.

Thank you for your consideration.

Very sincerely yours,

Robert Lone.

Games Washed Out, Manager's Headache

Detroit, May 3. (AP) — Major league baseball's entire six-game schedule was rained out today as the Detroit Tigers and Chicago White Sox were washed out of their series final here for the fourth time in six scheduled meetings this season.

Thus, a Briggs stadium duel of left-handers Hal Newhouse of the Tigers and Thornton Lee of the White Sox failed to materialize and the Chisox left town with an even break in the two games of their series that were played. Previously an entire three-game set between the Tigers and White Sox was postponed in Chicago.

The Tigers planned to send Newhouse, their 29-game winner of 1944, against the champion St. Louis Browns here Friday in the first of a three-game series. Manager Jimmy Dykes of the White Sox said Lee would pitch tomorrow against the Cleveland Indians.

The day's complete wash-out put all major league clubs on the move tonight for a change of partners in the last sectional sets before the season's first east-west meetings start next Wednesday.

Postponements gave many a manager an added headache in the form of a flock of upcoming doubleheaders.

Baseball would settle for some of the balmy March weather that enabled the clubs to attain peak playing condition during northern training season but has taken a powder since the curtain went up.

With the campaign 18 days old, the most games any club had played was 13 due to rain, cold weather and a schedule dotted with open dates.

Twenty-eight games were called off since opening day of 103 listed on the playing charts. The White Sox, who lost four of six home dates, and the Phillies, who missed three of six at home, suffered most.

When the New York Yankees' game with Philadelphia at Yankee stadium was rained out the Yankees left for Boston and a road jaunt that will keep the mout of the Bronx until May 23.

Cincinnati's visit to Chicago was a complete dud as the final contest of the two-game series was postponed and both the Boston at Brooklyn and New York at Philadelphia set were ended with only one game played of three scheduled. Due to yesterday's doubleheader, today's St. Louis at Pittsburgh tilt was the only game of their series actually lost.

By Ken Gunderman

Much has already been written about the selection of Senator Happy Chandler as baseball commissioner to succeed the late Judge Landis and there is a natural disposition now to sit back and to await developments, to learn just how the new commissioner plans to operate his office in contrast to the iron rules laid down by Landis. Chandler outlined his broad policies recently in an interview with J. G. Taylor Spink, editor of The Sporting News, the leading baseball publication. From that interview, it became obvious that many changes are inevitable in policy, but that not all of the Landis-made regulations are destined for the ashcan.

The most significant change, perhaps, will be aggressive promotion of baseball from the commissioner's office, in contrast to the viewpoint of Judge Landis that the commissioner should be heard, perhaps, but not seen. Landis gave no interviews and made no speeches. Chandler will talk baseball whenever and wherever he can find an audience. He will promote baseball interest at every opportunity. Landis felt that the promotion of baseball was strictly the responsibility of club owners and that his job was mainly one of enforcement of rules that he established to keep the game straight.

Landis was exactly the man needed by baseball when he took the czar job after the 1919 scandal. It was not a question of promotion then. It was a question of policing, of cleaning up the game to regain public interest. Landis did just that and in a manner that deserved the appreciation of everyone connected with the game. Now that the integrity of baseball has been firmly established, it must be retained and it will be Chandler's main responsibility to fulfill that obligation. However, promotion of baseball from the commissioner's office is desirable and Chandler will fit beautifully into that picture.

Senator Chandler is from Kentucky, home of the blue grass and breeding grounds of race horses. Will Chandler bar racing owners from investing in baseball clubs as Landis did? The new commissioner replied that he knows racing men who are highly reputable people, but that each case would stand entirely on its merits. The obvious indication is that Chandler will not rule out men merely because they like the smell of horses. He added, however, that he disapproves of baseball players betting on horses, and that he will continue Landis' fight against gambling in ball parks.

The new commissioner will oppose the discrimination of ball players in the draft. This is somewhat of a different approach than baseball has taken up to this point. Chandler senses the injustice of calling a man into military service solely because he happens to be a ball player, and he further believes that organized baseball is entitled to retain its 4-F's. As for unionization of baseball, the new commissioner is content to leave that entirely to the players themselves. If he wants to join a union, OK. If he joins and later wants to quit, that's OK, too.

CHANDLER SETS UP NEW OFFICE

Baseball Commissioner To Have Headquarters In Cincinnati

Chicago, May 3. (AP)—The office of baseball commissioner, located in Chicago during the 24-year regime of the late K. M. Landis, will be moved to Cincinnati, Commissioner-elect A. E. (Happy) Chandler disclosed today.

Indicating it may be "longer than expected" before he resigns from the U. S. senate, the Kentucky legislator also announced he had named Leslie M. O'Connor, secretary to Landis, as "special assistant" and appointed Walter W. Mulbry, his senate secretary, as successor to O'Connor.

Chandler asserted at his first Chicago press conference that he had decided to establish his office

Chemicals and the booster pump had to be used at both places.

Hospital

Mrs. Cecil Collins, 113 North 14th street, underwent an operation at St. Francis hospital. Her condition is favorable.

Mom and Pop and the Car...

"George—that smelly, old exhaust pipe on the car needs changing! The Standard Oil Man says it's worn out!"

Corrosive fumes and moisture are causing exhaust and tail pipes to wear out rapidly as cars grow older. This increases carbon monoxide dangers. Better have your Standard Oil Dealer inspect these parts and replace them, if necessary.

COUNCIL MAKES BUDGET STUDY

Other Business Is Also Considered By Body Here Last Night

Several hours of a long meeting of the Escanaba city council last night was devoted to a study of the budget for the coming fiscal year, so that a tentative budget may be ready for action by the council at its next meeting.

The budget now in preparation is for the fiscal year 1945-46 which starts July 1. Adoption of the final budget will not take place until next month.

Other business before the council last night included:

Awarding of a contract to August Erickson of Escanaba for the removal of old roofing and the application of new roofing on two buildings of the Steele-Wallace property purchased by the city.

The buildings are used for city storage and for rental. Erickson's bid of $185 for the removal of the old roof and $1,692.75 for the application of the new roof was the lowest of five bids submitted. Erickson told the council the work would be completed before June 1.

Ordered the city manager to investigate the possibility of reopening a flowing well on Lake Shore Drive at the old brewery site for public use, as suggested to the council last night by Fred Weissert of 1417 Lake Shore Drive. The site is now owned by the city for park development and the well has been capped.

Approved the erection of three overhead street lights on Fourteenth Avenue south near Twenty-third street in response to a petition from residents in the vicinity.

Requested the city manager to obtain cost estimates or bids for constructing a basement and foundation for the Jake Ammel home, 412 South Twelfth street.

Ammel received a city building permit to construct the basement and foundation. The work was nearly completed when it was discovered that the location of the house is too far forward of other houses in the block to conform to a city ordinance.

Because no inspection was made by the city after the permit was issued, and because the permit was not issued in conformity with the city charter, the council indicated it believes the city is responsible for the additional cost of moving the house to the correct alignment.

This cost was estimated at between $400 and $500.

In future building permits will be issued only by the city manager on forms obtained from the city clerk. Where a residence is to have major improvement at the location of the dwelling does not conform to the city ordinance.
